Initial IEP Delay Guidance

The “delay” form used for extending the date of an IEP has been changed as of September 2010. The form was changed to bring it into compliance with the Office of Special Education requirements and the State Performance Plan Indicators. A delay can only be used for an initial IEP and can never be used for an annual review. The annual review must be held within 365 days by the school, even if the parent cannot attend the annual IEP. The new delay form clearly indicates the reasons that an initial IEP date can be extended. If a parent signs that there is a mutual agreement to delay the 30 school day timeline, the school will be in compliance. The parent signature for a delay should be obtained prior to the end of the 30 day time period. The state is collecting data for the timeline of all initial IEPs. Even one initial IEP that is over the 30 day timeline will result in a corrective action plan by the district for the Office of Special Ed. The new delay form can be located on the COP website under Resources, then Special Education, under Assessment Forms.
